HYLAN'S INFLUENCE SEEN

Meanwhile Jurors Are in Doubt
Whether to Be Pleased or Feel Resentful.

Members of the Almiral Grand Jury appear to be uncertain whether they are being rebuked or rewarded by the action of the Grand Jury board in dropping their names from jury lists for three years and several of their number will meet this afternoon at the office of Arthur G. Meyer, 25 Madison avenue, to decide whether action should be taken to defend their conduct as crime investigators.

While official announcement was made that the jurors were excused and not suspended, most of them were convinced that the action of the board was designed as a criticism, to put it mildly, and that it was prompted by Mayor Hylan to get even for the Almiral investigation of the city administration and the indictment of Tammany men.

The pay of the Almiral jury has been held up while David Hirshfield, Commissioner of Accounts, makes an investigation of a complaint that fees were charged for sessions held up town and that the investigators wasted public funds.

Prompted by Mayor, It Is Said.

Such accusations were presented to the Board of Jurors and formed the basis for the action taken. Mayor Hylan was understood to have prompted the suggestion that the jurors be dropped for life.

Most citizens would welcome being excused from jury duty for at least three years. But it happens that in this case considerable honor attaches to membership in a body which has great powers to investigate any and everything in the city government. The jurors are jealous of their reputations and, and being told they are not wanted is unpleasant after working 210 days for the city for $3 a day. When these men, all of influential position and most of them wealthy, were sworn in they were told they were the "flower of our citizenry," which they consider quite different from being told their names are stricken from the honor list of able jurors.

Some of the more prominent members were indignant over what they termed the arbitrary action of the Board. Others were indifferent. A few were disturbed enough so that they talked flight, and they will meet to-day to try to start something.

Not a Slap, Asserts O'Byrne.

Frederick F. O'Byrne, Commissioner of Jurors, said the action of the Grand Jury Board could not be interpreted as a slap at the Almiral jurors. He explained it this way:

"The five members of the board were present when this action was taken on November 28. All voted to give the Almiral jurors three years' vacation. The average service of a citizen on a jury is twelve days; these men served 210 days. They were not suspended but excused.

"Some of the jurors had made application to be excused for a period of years and in acting on those requests the board decided to treat all the jury alike. They could not very well be suspended for three years as there is no such a thing as a permanent jury list. A new one is made up every year and if any of these men wish to get back on the list they can make application to the board next year and then may have their names restored. The board has unrestricted authority over the list and can do anything it wishes next year. Some of the Almiral jurors will be retired automatically before the expiration of the three years by reason of their ages."

MUST REACH 40 TO GET FULL SHARE IN ESTATE

Children of J. A. Ferguson
Divide Property Equally.

None of the children of the late Julian Armour Ferguson, who died November 27 in his home, 3 Central Park South, will receive his or her full share of their father's estate until after their fortieth birthdays, under the terms of his will which was filed in the Surrogate's Court yesterday, and disposes of an estate of more than $100,000 in real property and more than $10,000 in personal property.

PRINCETON TO DINE CHINESE.

Wang Chung Hui, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of China; Dr. Philip K. C. Tsau and Admiral Tsai Tze Kua, adviser to the President of China, and the members of the Chinese delegation to the Washington conference, with the head of the Chinese Red Cross, will be guests at a dinner this evening given by Princeton University alumni in the McAlpin. Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of the university, and David C. T. Yen are to be the speakers.

CAVE AT SEA TO GIVE RADIO CONCERT FOR FRIENDS HERE

Singer in Cabin of the Paris Will Trill Into Wireless
Phone Sunday Afternoon and Amateurs All Along Coast May Catch Notes.

The first Sunday wireless concert to pulsate through the ether from a liner at sea for the benefit of all the Atlantic coast with radio ears is scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, when Mme. Emma Calve, once celebrated for the super-ardent Carmen, will trill into the telephone receiver aboard the steamship Paris, queen of the French line fleet. The commander of the Paris made the announcement by radio yesterday to the office of the line here, but did not tell what the programme of the concert would be. This is the skipper's message:

"Will be in Quarantine at 8 A. M. Monday. Please advise press that Mme. Emma Calve will sing through wireless at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, 32 miles east of Sandy Hook.

BANDITS GET $2,100 IN STREET HOLDUP

Auditor Surrenders Payroll at Pistol Point at L' Station Stairs.

William Nash, auditor for the Turner Construction Company, 24 Madison avenue, was held up yesterday at the foot of the stairs of the elevated station at Liberty avenue and 162d street, Ozone Park, Queens, by three men, one of whom pressed a revolver against his stomach. Nash threw up his hands and one of the bandits jerked away a bag containing $2,100 in pay envelopes. The three then jumped into an automobile and drove off.

The audaciousness of the attack so surprised Nash he forgot he had a pistol until he saw the car dash away. Then he began firing and, according to his story, which several other persons corroborated, he hit a rear tire, which flattened, but the car was soon out of sight.

The pay envelopes were for workmen employed on construction jobs in Ozone Park. Nash lives at 291 Broadway, Manhattan.

The theft of $2,000 in furs from the store of Samuel Shiller, 208 Broadway, took place yesterday morning. The store has an electric protective system, but the robbery was accomplished between the time the alarm sounded and the arrival of detectives. A window was broken to gain entrance. The store of David Silver, 42 West Thirty-sixth street was entered twice within the last two weeks and furs valued at $5,000 were taken by burglars operating in the same manner.

Criminals Kelly, negro, of 74 West Ninety-ninth street, said to have been streaked with kalsomine, was arrested in a hallway in West 101st street yesterday by Detectives Trojan and Fitzgerald of the West 100th street station, who had been called to the drug store of Lazar Bressler, 554 Columbus avenue, from which whiskey and drugs valued at $1,000 had been stolen. The detectives found a hole had been cut through the store flooring from the cellar, which was kalsomined. Kelly was said to have finished a five year term in jail recently. He was held in $10,000 bail in West Side Court for examination on suspicion of burglary.

Benjamin Fullman, 19, broker's messenger, of 104 Franklin avenue, The Bronx, was held in $5,000 bail yesterday for Grand Jury action when arraigned in Tombs court, charged with the larceny of securities valued at $7,000 from Thomas and McKinnon, brokers of 42 Broadway. He pleaded not guilty and waived examination.

Two men held up James Ryan, manager of a James Butler grocery store at 114 Academy street, Long Island City, Thursday night, obtaining $100 from the cash register. They escaped in an automobile.

The absence of Herman Morhardt, alleged to have been robbed by two bandits in a cafe at 335 West Thirty-ninth street two weeks ago, led to the discharge yesterday in Jefferson Market Court of Thomas Morrison, 442 Ten Eyck avenue, charged with taking part in the hold up.

'CAUGHT WITH GOODS,' LA GUARDIA TO CRAIG Can't Tell Truth 30 Seconds in Stretch, Is Retort.

Comptroller Craig and President La Guardia of the Board of Aldermen yesterday had one of the snappiest oral sessions of the many that have occurred at meetings of the Board of Estimate during the Hylan administration. It started when Craig objected to approving the minutes of a previous meeting on the ground that the secretary had "deliberately suppressed material facts regarding La Guardia's action in the board."

"The Comptroller is mad because I caught him with the goods in the Court House scandal," countered the President of the Board of Aldermen.

Craig shot over something to the effect that the "late lamented La Guardia" could not tell the truth for thirty seconds in a stretch.

Later Mayor Hylan said the Port Authority was dealing in dreams because it had no authority to appropriate money. Staten Island wanted the city's plan of a tunnel from Brooklyn to that borough, rather than to Jersey, as proposed by the Port Authority, he asserted.

Borough President Riegelmann got $6,000 to restore the street and sidewalks torn up for the subway construction in St. Felix street, between Lafayette avenue and Hanson place.

CLAIMANT OF EASTON ESTATE ARRIVES HERE

Mrs. Johnson of Ohio Says
She Is Only Child.

Mrs. Josephine Easton Johnson, aged 53, of Bloomville, Ohio, walked into the Surrogate's Court in Brooklyn yesterday and said that she was the "Josephine Johnson" mentioned in the scrawled "will" now on file as the principal heir to the $227,000 estate of Mrs. Margaret Easton, the reclusive, who died on October 30.

Mrs. Johnson said that she was the wife of William Johnson, a track foreman of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and that she was the only child of Mrs. Easton's husband, James, now dead. She laid claim to the estate on two grounds: First, being named as the chief heir in the unusual "will" received at the court from an anonymous source, she is entitled to the property; second, to Mrs. Easton was bequeathed the estate by her husband, James. Being a lineal descendant of James Easton, and his only child, said Mrs. Johnson, she was entitled to the property.

DR. LORENZ RESUMES ACTIVITIES TO-DAY

Surgeon Will Conduct Clinic
at St. Mark's Hospital This Afternoon.

CRITICS STOP ATTACKS

Services of Visitor Eagerly
Sought in Western Cities—
Official Invitations Sent.

Dr. Adolf Lorenz rested most of yesterday at the Murray Hill Hotel, his worries apparently smoothed away and his eagerness to do all he can for the crippled children of America restored. With the cessation of the attacks which were made against him last week he is taking a keener interest in things, and probably will make his stay indefinite.

Dr. Lorenz conducted several private examinations and operated upon Isabelle H. Hamilton, 9, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James A. Hamilton of 2090 Washington avenue, The Bronx. Dr. Hamilton is Commissioner of Correction. The child has been deformed since an attack of infantile paralysis eight years ago. Dr. Lorenz said that he expected her to be normal after she remains in a plaster cast for several weeks.

The surgeon will conduct a clinic this afternoon at St. Mark's Hospital, Eleventh street and Second avenue. It will be the last clinic to be held at a hospital in this city. Beginning next week, clinics will be held at the Health Department Building.

Dr. Jacob Sobel, assistant director of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the Health Department, and Dr. Franklin B. Van Wart, orthopedist of Kings County Hospital, examined 114 crippled children yesterday at the Health Department Building and selected eleven to be referred to Dr. Lorenz. Dr. Lorenz, according to present plans, will hold his first clinic at the Health Department Building at 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning. He will either rest or attend to private cases in his spare time.

Mrs. Gladys W. Schillowitz of 372 Manhattan avenue declined to be a slacker's wife, she told Justice Charles H. Kelby in the Supreme Court, Queens, yesterday. As a result of her testimony, Justice Kelby reserved decision on her application for an annulment and directed an investigation of the war record of Julius Schillowitz, whose address was given as Thirtieth avenue and Forty-ninth street, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Schillowitz said she was married August 23, 1913, at the age of 16. A few hours after the ceremony, she said, she met her husband's mother, who said, "Now Julius is safe, and they won't be able to draft him."

"As soon as I heard that I left my husband and have not lived with him since," Mrs. Schillowitz testified. She said she did not know whether her husband had been drafted, Justice Kelby wished to know before he decided the case, as there might be ground for action by the Federal authorities.

Christmas And the Victrola

Somewhere in and around New York there are many homes that are still awaiting the arrival of a Victrola.

They have heard of it; they know how good it is; they realize the necessity of good music; but they are waiting.

Why?... Who knows?... Surely, the wonderful opportunities that the Victrola offers for wholesome enjoyment, study, diversion and education could not be overlooked.

It Is Well

—to remember that the Victrola is made in sizes and styles to fit all homes.

There is a genuine Victrola at $25.

Model No. 80, a very practical home size, is $100.

Model 100, one of the most popular Victrolas in the entire catalog, is $150.

Model 110, a larger instrument, is $225.

And the Art Model (table style) is $250.

And so on up to the rich and beautiful period models at $1,250.

And the Wanamaker Store has a plan that easily arranges—

1861—This is the Sixtieth—1921 Christmas Time of this business.

To the writer of this little piece, still actively and thankfully directing its affairs, it is a privilege to welcome the people at this holiday season to the enjoyments of this vast edifice, specially and strongly built and equipped for their comfort and safety and to house the large quantities of carefully selected merchandise from almost all parts of the world and place it at their disposal at the lowest ever-changing costs possible, style, quality and freshness considered.

Some of us at the helm in the various sections have been at school from boyhood and girlhood, always studying and adding experience to do it better.

Not one of our workers counts himself or herself perfect, but we are encouraged with a certain progress here and there which keeps us going on hopefully.

If each of our assistants these days would only remember the principles which we have set before them by example and precept, that business CAN be done and should always BE done by straightforwardness—

1. Understanding the business you are employed to do.
2. Telling the truth.
3. Promising only what can be performed.
4. Quickly rectifying mistakes or failures by letter or phone.

Every person employed by us has in his or her keeping the good name, reputation and prosperity of the Store, which wants to be an honor to our great city and useful to its citizens.
